OUTLINES.

The missing launch of the Battleship Minnesota was found in twenty-seven feet of water off the ripraps in Hampton Roads yesterday and the bodies of eleven of the men who lost their lives have been recovered. ——Will Johnson, a negro who was hanged in Atlanta yesterday for assaulting a white woman, confessed to several assaults and murders that have mystified the police.——A man named Rufe Williams, who accompanied Miss Sallie Gibson, of Columbia, S. C., to Texas, to invest in lands, has confessed to assaulting and robbing her of $61,000, after taking her out riding at San Antonio, Tex. —At Brownsville, Tex., yesterday, Col. S. H. Wereford was shot and killed by Jesse Thorham in a difficulty growing out of the investigation of the shooting up of Brownsville by negro troops.——Three women were burned to death and two men seriously injured in a $20,000 fire at the Shaker Settlement in Ohio yesterday. ——Secretary Taft, while riding in an automobile at St. Paul, Minn., was suddenly taken ill, but after attention from a physician he attended a banquet last night,and made a speech. ——At Boise, Idaho, yesterday, the State introduced testimony to corroberate the story of Harry Orchard to the effect that Haywood and Pettibone hired him and sent him off on errands to commit murder; records of telegrams and money orders were introduced, showing that they had communicated with and sent money to Orchard while he was engaged in his dastardly deeds. ——A story that two men of foreign descent were overheard at Montgomery, Ala., yesterday discussing a plot to assassinate Vice President Fairbanks and Senator Foraker at Senator Morgan's funeral at Selma today, is believed at Selma to be absurd. ——New York markets: Money on call, steady, 2 1-2 to 3 1-2 per cent.; ruling rate, 2 1-2; closing bid, 2 1-2; offered at 3; spot cotton, steady, 13.15; flour, steady; No. 2 red, 95 elevator; corn, easy; No. 2, 61 elevator; oats, barely steady; mixed, 49; turpentine, firm, 60 1-2 to 61; rosin, steady; strained, common to good, 4.63 to 4.70.

Every fellow who is jilted by a girl can console himself by reflecting that she considered him worth her attention for a while.

The Brooklyn Eagle commends the fact that President Roosevelt goes armed, as he can shoot if he is ever attacked by an anarchist. However, just think of the innocent by-stander and his family.

Col. Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, ought to trot out that Presidential dark horse, so we can see in time whether he is string-halt, spavined or more or less affected with botts.

A Republican contemporary wants us to note that "wages are still advancing." Advancing? The man with the coon-skin cap knows that wages are merely trailing high prices. High prices have been doing the advancing.

Ex-Senator Burton, of Kansas, who is lecturing on how he got in jail, had such a slim attendance at one place that his gross receipts were only $4.17. People already know how to get in jail. What they want to know is how to keep out.

Remarks the Chattanooga Times: "It was decided at a cabinet council, we are informed, not to push criminal proceedings against Mr. Harriman. The Interstate Commerce Commission appears to be a sort of White House appendix, these days." The paragrapher on our esteemed 'Noogy' contemporary is bordering on sententiousness.

Editor Jack Albright, of the Mount Airy Leader (Rep.), says: "Senator Simmons says he will play hands off in the coming contest for the nomination for Governor, and, as usual, he is playing good politics." Please, also, turn to Simmons' name on the ledger and give him credit for a hamper basket full of horse sense. The Senator would be short on astuteness if he were to butt into that contest.

The Washington Post, in passing, observes: "It is estimated that the chances of injury are greater among men than among women by a ratio of eight to one. No doubt the ratio would be still greater if the women would learn to throw straight." Then it must be remembered also that men know when it is time to scoot under the bed, which means the same as taking to the tall timber or seeking the seclusion of the high grass.

We are living under a government that compels the people to buy in a high home market, whether they want to do so or not. However, the people vote to tax themselves for the benefit of the few, whose fortunes are swolen enormously by the unreasonably high tariff that in many instances totally shuts off foreign importations on which the government, as a matter of course, can collect no revenue. The people have all the appearance of being "guys."

PYTHIANS RETURNED

NEXT YEAR IN RALEIGH

The large delegation of Wilmington Pythians who attended the sessions of the Grand Lodge just concluded at Elizabeth City returned yesterday morning and last evening after a trip to the Jamestown Exposition. The Grand Lodge sessions adjourned Thursday and among those who returned yesterday morning were Supreme Master of Exchequer T. D. Meares; Past Grand Chancellor William F. Robertson and Colonel Walker Taylor, chairman of the Grand Lodge Judiciary Committee. The sessions were held in the court house at Elizabeth City and between three and four hundred delegates were in attendance. Judge J. R. Leigh delivered the address of welcome in behalf of the city and Rev. Mr. Veighe, on the part of the lodges. The response was by Luther H. Carlton, Esq. The feature of this session was an address by Judge Charles A. Barnes, of Jacksonville, Ill., supreme vice chancellor of the United States. On the following evening an informal smoker was given the Grand Lodge by the Elizabeth City Chamber of Commerce in the Elks' Home. This was greatly enjoyed by the large number of visitors in attendance. The following officers were subsequently elected at a business session of the Grand Lodge:

Vice Chancellor—Thos. H. Webb, of Dunn.

Prelate—Rev. John Wilbon, of High Point.

Master of Exchequer—John C. Mills, Rutherfordton.

Colonel Walker Taylor, of Wilmington, was elected for the eleventh consecutive time as chairman of the Grand Lodge Judiciary Committee. The recommendations of this committee of a new grand constitution and grand statutes was accepted without practically any change. This was perhaps the most important work of the sessions. The other two members of this committee are W. W. Bell, Esq., of Murphy, and W. C. Whitener, Esq., of Hickory.

The deputies of the Grand Chancellor throughout the State are understood to be retained in office by the new chief executive of the order.

The Grand Lodge decided to meet next year for the first time in twenty-two years at Raleigh, N. C. The adjournment at Elizabeth City was late Wednesday night and the Pythians left on Thursday morning for the Exposition. Captain Robertson says that while the Exposition is not yet finished by any means that work is being pushed hard and that with the possible exception of the ocean pier everything will be in shape in a week or two. He says though that the show is now well worth seeing. The government exhibits are all complete and are as elaborate as the United States has ever made at any exposition. The hotel rates, he says, appear reasonable and the rates in the cafes and restaurants are not above what they are in Wilmington so far as he was able to observe. Captain Robertson is enthusiastic over the North Carolina building and says that with the possible exception of New York it is the finest State "home" on the grounds, for they are all built like "homes" in order that they may be sold after the big show is over for residence purposes.

AN AUTOMOBILE PROTEST

(Published by Request.)

Editor Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir: I wish most emphatically to enter my protest against any such turbulence as characterized the baseball games on last Saturday at Hilton Park. I refer to a "yellow Devil"—an automobile which had a horn along with it that, when tooted, sounds like the tune the cow died on. I tell you, Mr. Editor, it was simply outrageous, disgusting, anything you wish to call it. The rooting in itself is all right, but when a young rhinoceros, with a snort which could be heard away off in the dim past, comes along to help keep the spectators from going to sleep, why then I think it is about time to shut off.

Kindly publish this for me, and greatly oblige.

During the season a series of events have been arranged for the traps at Carolina Beach, when the Wilmington Club will shoot with a team from Southport. Some fine sport is promised and members of the Club are looking forward to the announcement of the date of the first meet.

THEIR SISTER DEAD.

Mr. E. W. Fonvielle and Miss Fonviell Summoned to Florence, S. C.

Friends in this city of Mr. Edward W. Fonvielle and Miss Annie Fonvielle will sympathize with them tenderly in the death of their sister, Mrs. Hines, which occurred yesterday at her home in Florence, S. C., after an illness of but a few days. Mr. Fonvielle and Miss Fonvielle at 3:20 o'clock yesterday morning received a long distance telephone message from Florence advising them of the critical illness of their sister and they left at once on the 5:15 A. M. train to be with her. During the day the sad news came to friends here that Mrs. Hines had passed away. Mrs. Hines was Miss Bessie Fonvielle, daughter of Mr. James H. Fonvielle, of Warsaw, and it had been but little more than a year since she was a bride. She was universally loved by all who knew her and the distressing news of her death will be received with sorrow mingled with tenderest sympathy for the bereaved ones. Miss Sallie Fonvielle, a frequent visitor to Wilmington, and Mrs. Lake, wife of Dr. Lake, of Florence, are sisters of Mrs. Hines.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.

Defendants in Endless Variety Before the Mayor—Sentences.

The Mayor had quite an array of penitents before him yesterday at noon at the daily session of the police court. Peter Lust and A. Peterson, a couple of sailors, had a run-in with C. T. Williams on South Front Front street and were arrested by Officer M. P. Newton. Each of the trio was fined $5 and costs.

Mamie Parker, a colored woman arrested for disorderly conduct, had deposited $10 cash bond for her appearance. She simply couldn't stand to face the Mayor and the bond was forfeited.

Mary J. Scott and Julia Brown, denizens of Terry's alley, were arrested by Officer W. G. Brinkley with Thos. Clavor, a negro steward on one of the vessels in port, charged with disorderly conduct and drunkenness. An additional charge of vagrancy was preferred against each of the women, who received a sum total of 60 days on the farm. The colored steward and one Isaac Chapman were each taxed with $5 and costs.

Fire Last Night.

The alarm of fire from box 13 at the Wilmington Compress last night at 9:05 o'clock with the accompanying blowing of a large steam whistle, carried a large party to the water front to witness what they expected would be a big fire. However, there was but a small blaze about a planing mill at the mill of the Waccamaw Lumber Company, caused by friction. The mill force had their hose playing on the blaze and later the firemen turned a hose on also, so that the fire was extinguished without exceeding $25 or $50 damage.

New Cars Soon.

The air brakes for the new suburban cars of the Consolidated Company arrived yesterday and will be attached in the company shops as soon as possible. The cars will probably be put into commission the first of next week as they have been held in the shed awaiting the arrival of the brakes. The new numbers will be 39 and 41.

Railroads Petition Corporation Commission to Defer Limiting Hours of Telegraphers.

OTHER NEWS FROM RALEIGH

W. P. M. Turner Will Study Law. Fire in Swift Packing Plant. Heavy Rains — Counsel at Work on Answer.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 14.—The Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line and Southern Railway Companies today filed with the Corporation Commission petitions asking that the Commission extend the time for the A. C. L. of recent act of the Legislature prescribing eight hours work for railway telegraph operators, not to be effective until March 4th, 1908, at which time the national law as to hours of labor will be effective, the extension of the time by the Commission to be on condition that in the meantime operators will be allowed to work more than eight hours, but not in excess of twelve. The Corporation Commission set the petitions for a hearing of both sides on June 21st, at which time the Railway Telegraphers' Union will have representatives here to oppose the petitions and to insist that the State law be put into effect July 1st as the Legislature intended.

W. P. Mangum Turner, city editor of the Raleigh Times, leaves tomorrow for the University of North Carolina to take the Summer Law School course. He will return to the Raleigh Times in the Fall, to remain with the paper for a while before taking up the practice of his profession.

Fire destroyed the office of Swift & Co., of Chicago, here early this morning and spread into the big warehouse in which meats were stored, practically ruining three carloads of meat and quantities of lard and other meat products. The fire is thought to have started from crossed electric wires. The loss was fully covered by insurance, being estimated at probably $3,000.

The Raleigh board of aldermen has finally agreed to the proposition of the Raleigh Electric Company, whereby the city will grade and put in order certain streets for the extension of the street car system, the extension to be about three and a half miles extending into the eastern, northeastern, southwestern and southeastern sections of the city. The cost is estimated to be about $125,000 to the Electric Company, and $3,500 to the city. However the aldermen make the further concession of extending the present contract for the city street lights with the Electric Company for five years beyond the present term.

By odds the heaviest rain that has fallen in this section this season came in torrents, almost sheets, last night. The damage to farm lands around Raleigh was immense, both to hillside and bottom crops.

Counsel on the part of the State for the litigation involving the enforcement of the 2 1-4 cent passenger and reduced freight rate bills passed by the last Legislature are in daily conference with the Corporation Commission regarding the preparation of the answers that will be made to the suits by the Southern, the Seaboard Air Line and the Atlantic Coast Line, set for hearings before Judge Pritchard, of the United Circuit Court at Asheville, June 26th. Counsel say they are doing all in their power to expedite the hearing and final disposition of the suits.

ACADEMY SUMMER SEASON.

Growing Popularity of New Wilmington Enterprise That is a Blessing.

Though this is the initial week of the Academy's Summer season, yet good business has been the order of things and this indicates that the venture will be a success. The theatre was thronged last night and also did good business in the afternoon. The pictures were of splendid type and many films convulsed those present. The illustrated song was a feature, being the reproduction of the rendition of "The Holy City" by a famed operatic singer and accompanied by beautifully colored slides.

The same bill will be on this afternoon and tonight, the features of the motion picture part of the exhibitions being "The Chimney Sweep," and "An Interesting Story." There are others, of course, and decidedly attractive.

The Academy is conducted as a 5-cent theatre and gives an immense amount of amusement for the money. It also presents a pretty ice cream parlor.

Real Estate Transfers.

By deeds filed for record yesterday James M. Whitted and wife transferred to Thos. B. Carroll and John H. Niggel, Jr., for $375, property at the southeast corner of Sixteenth and Orange streets, 115x165 feet in size; J. A. Nixon and wife transferred to E. Boushee, for $200 and other considertions, property on west side of Magnolia, 231 feet south of Orange street, 16x75 feet in size, more or less, and W. F. Stolter transferred to Mrs. Mary M. Wilson for $1 and other considerations, property 150 feet north of Market and 141 feet west of Eleventh street.

THE MISSIONARY UNION

Nineteenth Annual Sessions Concluded at Wallace Last Night—Next Year at Clinton—Day of Prayer at Immanuel Church.

The nineteenth annual sessions of the Woman's Missionary Union of Wilmington Presbytery were concluded last night at the Presbyterian Church at Wallace, N. C., and many of the delegates and officers of the organization have returned to the city. The meeting at Wallace is reported to have been the most largely attended and most profitable ever held by the Union. The people of the village and the community entertained the visitors most handsomely and it was with reluctance that they departed. The Union meets next year at Clinton, N. C., at the time to be later decided by the Executive Committee. The annual "Day of Prayer," which is always observed by the organization, will be held with Immanuel Presbyterian Church, this city, in the Fall, the exact time to be announced later.

The business sessions at Wallace were crowded, but the calendar was cleared with satisfaction and quite some time was devoted to the excellent addresses that had been prepared for the occasion. One of these was by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, this city, who had for his theme "Home Missions." On Wednesday evening Mr. Cameron Johnson gave a delightful illustrated lecture on the foreign missionary work in Japan and again last night on Corea. These were most interesting discourses, and were listened to with great pleasure by all present.

All the old officers were re-elected. These included Mrs. Jackson Johnson, of Winnabow, Brunswick county, president, and Miss Annie Moore, of Burgaw, corresponding secretary.

TO RESIST PILOTAGE.

Two Schooners Have Now Refused to Pay—Will Test Law.

Two schooners have now refused to pay the pilotage over the Cape Fear bar, recently put in force again by act of the Legislature. They are the Helen E. Thompson, which arrived about two weeks ago and the Elizabeth T. Doyle, which arrived yesterday. The Helen E. Thompson will probably clear today and as the inward and outward pilotage will then fall due, whether the service was accepted or not, it is expected that the test case will be made up and the constitutionality of the recent act of Assembly will be tested. Upon the refusal of the Helen E. Thompson to accept pilotage some time ago, the pilots retained Messrs. Rountree & Carr to prosecute the case and it is expected that this will be instituted when the case comes up with the vessel upon her clearance today. Certain of the shippers who are to make the test case have employed Messrs. Russell & Goodman to contest the law. Captain Green, of the Doyle, which arrived yesterday is quoted as saying that he was willing to pay the pilotage personally but had been advised by his owners that if he did pay it, the amount would come out of his own pocket. When the Doyle is ready to clear it is expected that the second of the suits will be instituted.

THE BLOODHOUND SCORES.

Store Breaker in Pender County Run to Earth Yesterday Morning.

Policeman Frank George returned yesterday from Burgaw, Pender county, where he went on a business trip. Officer George tells an interesting story of the capture of a storebreaker in Pender county yesterday morning, with the aid of the bloodhound recently purchased by the County Commissioners at Burgaw. Night before last the store of Mr. Stonewall Sidbury, between Ashton and Rocky Point, was broken into and a large amount of goods stolen. Upon the discovery of the robbery yesterday morning Mr. Sidbury at once applied to the county seat for use of the bloodhound. The dog was sent down in charge of Jailer John Vann Rivenbark and took up the trail at once, pursuing the quarry a distance of five miles. It looked as if the run was to be unsuccessful until a large party of hands in a field of Mr. Andrew Bowden was seen to give way to the dog, he having passed through the line of hands along the row and bayed a negro on the opposite side. Mr. Rivenbark and party were not following the dog closely and when they came up the negro ran. After a further chase of about a mile the negro was captured and lodged in jail at Burgaw. He will be given preliminary trial later.

Mr. H. L. Cumming Promoted.

His many friends in this city will be pleased to know that a general order made by the National Railroad of Mexico, effective June 1st, promotes Mr. Henry L. Cumming, formerly of this city and son of Capt. Preston Cumming, to position of Engineer of Maintenance of Way of that great system, with headquarters at Colonia Station, Mexico City. He will have charge of maintenance, additions and betterments of tracks, bridges, telegraph lines, fuel and water stations of the standard guage lines of the company reporting to the assistant general manager.

THE SESSIONS BEGIN

Third Annual Meeting of Carolina International Training Institute at Wrightsville.

PROMINENT WORKERS THERE

First Day's Exercises Pleasant and Profitable, But Attendance Not So Large—Seashore Hotel Entertaining Well—Programme.

The third annual session of the Carolina International Training Institute for Sunday School workers of all denominations in the Carolinas and on the Atlantic seaboard convened yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach. While the attendance thus far has not reached the proportions that it should on account of the cool weather, a large number are expected on the week-end trains today. The institute is being elegantly entertained by Manager E. L. Hinton, of the Seashore Hotel, and those who have arrived are spending their time most pleasantly and profitably. The sessions continue through Thursday of next week and it is expected by that time that the enrollment will reach several hundred.

Members of the faculty of the school who have thus far arrived are Dr. H. M. Hamill, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Hamill, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Antoinette Lamoreaux, of Chicago, lecturer on Child Study; Miss Frances Hungerford, of the Washington City schools, instructor of drawing and blackboard exercise, and Dr. John Q. Wilson, of Greenwood S. C., president of Landers College. It is much regretted that Dr. J. A. B. Scherer, of Newberry College, S. C., will not be able to be present. He is now traveling abroad and will not be home until later.

Dr. Hamill was the first speaker yesterday morning and had for his subject: "Genesis in a Nutshell." This subject was most interestingly developed by the dean of the school with blackboard illustrations. Dr. Hamill advised teachers not to go into the location of the Garden of Eden nor to concern themselves so much about whether Moses wrote the book or not; the efforts should be to present the truth of the word and to impress it upon the mind of the pupil. His was a most excellent discourse.

Mrs. Hamill was the second hour speaker during the morning session. Her subject was "The Beginners" and as a primary specialist she made a most favorable impression on her hearers. She is a magnetic speaker and presents Bible truths with conviction. Mrs. Hamill presented a number of helps that might well be used in imparting knowledge to the tots.

Mrs. Lamoreaux, of Chicago, on Child Study was particularly interesting. She declared that it was necessary in teaching the child to know the child nature and impressed upon her hearers the fact that this should be studied. Sympathetic patience was one of the points strongly urged upon the teacher of the child mind.

The Conference Quartette, composed of Rev. A. J. Parker, of Wilmington; Mr. Phillips, of Newbern, and Rev. Mr. Frizzelle, of Beaufort, with young Mr. Parker as substitute for Rev. Euclid McWhorter, of Maxton, who has not yet arrived, is doing some fine singing and this feature of the institute work is being much enjoyed.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session was called at 4:30 and opened with a hymn rendered by the North Carolina Conference Quarette. Dr. Hamill, the first speaker, presented the Sunday School's need for adult classes. He said the Sunday School roll should be equal to or greater than the church roll for the reason that the grown-up people need to study the Bible and can do it to greater advantage in a Sunday School than in their homes. It dignifies and helps the Sunday School. It affords a source from which to draw teachers and supply places of absent teachers.

Referring to the class of adults who should be members of the Sunday School he spoke of the "spectacle saints," the old people who have had long Christian experience. He urged the importance of enrolling business and professional men whose time is so fully occupied as to leave little room for Bible study. Employers of young men and young women he regards as a very potent factor in the influence of any Sunday School. In this connection a very beautiful tribute was paid to H. J. Heinz, the millionare pickle manufacturer, who a few weeks ago invited Dr. Hamill to speak to his employes during their luncheon hour.

Parents, officers of the church and all the people who attend the services should be enrolled as active members.

The necessity of having a definite place in the Sunday School room, a definite department to which members from other classes might be formally promoted, proper literatures and an interesting teacher were points specially emphasized. The lecture method of teaching rather than the question method he regarded as best adapted to keep the class together.

As a means toward obtaining these

NO WAR WITH JAPAN.

In view of the friction between Japan and the United States, first over the San Francisco school incident, and later over the attack of some 'Frisco hoodlums on Japanese restaurant keepers, an interview which the Washington Post had with a prominent Japanese financier and manufacturer is interesting. Between the agitators and jingo newspapers in Japan and the yellow journals of America, the latter incident is being fanned and enlarged into a war scare. In its interesting column "People Met in Hotel Lobbies," the Post of Thursday last says:

"If the people of Japan are thinking of war with any nation, it is with Russia, and not with the United States," declared Soichi Hori, head of a large sugar refinery in Formosa, Japan, at the Ebbitt last evening.

"It is ridiculous to suppose that the intelligent Japanese would countenance a war with this country," he went on, "but many of them fear that within ten or fifteen years Russia will seek revenge for the loss of prestige she suffered at the hands of Japan in the last war. They hope that such a war will not come, but they want to be prepared for it if it comes. Should Japan have a war with the United States, no matter what the outcome, she would be left in an exhausted condition and at the mercy of Russia.

"From whatever viewpoint it is considered, this talk of war is groundless. There may be some in the United States who talk of what would happen to this country should a conflict occur and they may urge this as an argument for a larger navy. There may be others who are sensationalists and try to stir up strife, such as the labor people in an Francisco. But such difficulties as have occurred in the Pacific Coast city can be straightened out by the two governments without trouble.

"We have this sort of person in Japan, too. We have politicians and demagogues who strive to work upon the ignorant masses and thus ride to power. We have what we call 'red' newspapers in Japan. In this country you call them the 'yellows.' They do not represent the real opinions of the stable and intelligent Japanese. They may talk of strife, but what they say will not bring on war.

"The Japanese have not forgotten the part played by the United States in the last war, when American financiers aided the Japanese cause and President Roosevelt exercised his good offices to bring about peace. Nor have the Japanese forgotten the attitude of the President in the school trouble, nor all the years of friendship that have existed between the two nations since the time of Commodore Perry.

"No, there will be no war, and there should be none. I left Japan only forty days ago, and the feeling toward the United States was very friendly. Japanese merchants are thinking now of developing the agricultural and manufacturing resources of the country. They want peace. The millions of soldiers of the late war all are at work. Much is expected of the development of China, where railroads are being built constantly, and trade must develop enormously during the next decade or two. Just now we are extending our trade in Manchuria and Korea."

The above is the "commercialism" view of the situaiotn, and in all probability it just about sizes up the matter as to Japan. However, it seems to an on-looker that the Japanese are entirely too sensitive and that there is a disposition in the land of the Mikado to make international questions of incidents that are merely local in their nature. It is quite the natural thing for Japan to look after the interests of her people abroad, but to talk about the risk of a war with the United States over something for which the country as a whole had nothing to do, and considers a question to be easily settled on the basis as to who was responsible for a street row, is absurd.

WHAT UNCLE JOE SAID.

What Speaker Cannon said at the alumni banquet given in his honor when he visited Guilford College, N. C. a few weeks ago, is attracting a good deal of attention up North as well as in North Carolina. Mr. Cannon was the commencement orator at Guilford, near where he was born, but it was at the banquet that he said something on the race question that seemed to coincide with Southern sentiment.

A Winston-Salem dispatch on Thursday says a gentleman who attended the Guilford College commencement and heard the Speaker's toast has received letters and telegrams from Northern papers asking him to give them the true version of Mr. Cannon's speech. The gentleman's reply was this:

"From old English times what was said at a private banquet was considered sub rosa. Speaker Cannon said nothing on topic mentioned improper, untrue, sensational or in bad taste. The speaker was the guest of the college and the alumni. Certainly no alumnus would assist in putting a guest in the limelight even if they had said something extraordinary. Mr. Cannon's speech was taken down by an official stenographer of the house of representatives who will probably supply the exact text if desired.

"Speaker Cannon expressed himself while at Guilford College that his former views regarding the South and Southern people had been materially changed and he assured several gentlemen that with pleasure he would advocate a government appropriation to Guilford Battle Ground during the next session of Congress."

The Winston-Salem gentleman takes the correct view of it, and he refers the Northern papers to Speaker Cannon who has a copy of his own speech. The Question, however, is whether Uncle Joe will come across with what he really said on the negro question inside the closed doors of a banquet hall.

MIDSUMMER FASHIONS.

The Delineator for July has been received, and it is exceedingly attractive as to cover design and general features. However, its chief delight to the ladies is that it has probably outdone itself in exploiting the mid-Summer fashions. The fashion plates and illustrations are elaborate and on a handsomer scale than ever, and the fashion matter is full and valuable in all its details. The Paris and New York fashions are presented in all their attractiveness and it is worthy of note that Mrs. Osborne, a well known creator of fashions, contributes a letter that is charming as to contents and attractive with numerous illustrations. She will write exclusively for The Delineator, and that is quite a card for that popular publication. It is hardly worth while to refer to the fact that the literary features and the home science and art departmens of the magazine are among its most taking features. The subscription price is $1.00 a year and the price per copy 15 cents. Address The Butterick Publishing Co. (Ltd.), Spring and MacDougald Streets, New York.

CURRENT COMMENT

—The excitement over the President's habit of carrying a gun is likely to die down soon. After all, what is a six-shooter between friends?—Washington Post.

—"We have but one life to live," says the Spokane Spokesman-Review. And at the present cost of living one would seem a plenty and then some.—Washington Post.

—A Missouri editor has figured out that a man swears to keep from crying, and a woman cries to keep from swearing. And yet the relation of the two is often that of cause and effort.—Washington Post.

—The Chicago anarchists have notified the authorities that Haywood and Moyer must not be harmed. Just why the anarchists are so interested in Haywood, if he is such an innocent somebody, doesn't appear. It would seem that their anxiety should be exploited for Orchard who is a man af-Times.

—If Speaker Cannon were a citizen of the south he would class as a lily-white holding the sentiments he expressed in his Guilford, N. C., speech. He declared for state's rights and on the race question said boldly: "You are dealing with the matter right and proper. The south alone can handle the job and is alone responsible." Obviously the speaker is a "favorite son" solely for strategical purposes and not in the expectation of a personal victory.—Chattanooga Times.

—The South is leading the country in moral reforms and the North in economic reforms. The North will learn from the South and the South from the North. The leaders in the North who fail to read aright the signs of the times in the moral movement will straggle out of the army of progress as have those who ignored the spirit of economic reform. In the South the unbelievers in economic advance will meet the fate of the infidels in the moral struggle.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

A HELPING HAND.

Is Gladly Extended by a Wilmington Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Wilmington prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence, and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

C. H. Horton, printer on The Morning Star, formerly residing at 109 1-2 Dock street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I had a rash on my body which had been bothering me for some time, and often almost set me wild. I used lots of medicine and remedies, but without relief until I procured Doan's Ointment from Bellamy's drug store, I found it to be almost excellent. I do not believe it was ten minutes after I applied it before I had relief. I am glad to let tohers know of an effective preparation like Doan's Ointment proved to be in my case."

WHEN REST IS NEEDED.

"When people fall into the habit of wondering whether they have done routine things it is high time for them to consider the advisability of a rest," said a physician. "There is no surer sign, to my mind, that the system is becoming overtaxed than this feeling of uncertainty.

"I was staying with a friend the other night—spending the night with him, in fact. He's a man whom I know pretty well, and I thought at dinner and through the evening, from a little nervousness in his conversation and manner, that things weren't all right with him, but I wasn't absolutely convinced till bedtime approached. We were sitting upstairs in his study, his family having retired, and he asked me to excuse him while he saw that the house was locked up. It was a still night, and I could follow his progress around the various rooms on the first floor. He seemed to me to be unnecessarily long, and, without being inquisitive, I really became interested to know whether he wasn't making the rounds twice. Finally I heard him go into the parlor, a room I was sure he had visited at least once before. When he came upstairs I asked laughingly how many times he had seen that each window was fastened. But he wasn't in a laughing mood at all.

"'It's a funny thing, old man,' he said, 'but I've been fool enough to look at each window two or three times. Do you know, it would strike me after I had left a room that perhaps I hadn't put the catch properly on one of the windows there, and back I'd have to go to make sure. Being in there, I'd examine the other windows again. It's been that way for half a dozen nights. Somehow doing these things doesn't seem to make the impression on me that one would expect. This lack of sureness isn't confined to locking windows either. I find myself at the office wondering whether I have given such and such instructions—instructions that are so much a part of my daily work that I suppose I give them mechanically and then forget them. Nine times out of ten I find everything is all right, but I'm not quite happy till I do. I guess I must be getting old maidish in my old age.'

"It was my turn to be serious then. I explained to him that his forgetfulness all came from being overtired. From habit he worked like an automaton, doing this, that and the other thing in his business or home life, but a great number of his actions were without the cognizance of the brain. He needed rest and if he did not take it he would break down.

"I got him away from cares for a bit, and the next time I saw him he laughed as heartily over the incident of the much locked windows as I pretended to. He doesn't know it, but he had a narrow escape. I'm telling this story that it may come to some one in an overstrenuous age."—New York Press.

Whistler and Color.

Although Whistler did not care for music, he made use of his technical knowledge for themes. "Symphony In Gray and Green," "Variations In Blue and Green," "Nocturne: Opal and Silver," "Arrangement In Black and Brown," are examples of this particular trait. His most ambitious desire was to paint a grand concerto-like picture with the title "Full Palette," "Just as in music," he explained, "when they employ all the instruments they make it 'Full Band.' If I can find the right kind of thing, I will produce a harmony in color corresponding to Beethoven's harmonies in sound."—Otto H. Bacher in Century.

How He Remembered.

Professor Huxley had a funny way of remembering certain anatomical details of the human heart. On the left side of the heart there is a valve with two flaps resembling a bishop's miter and known as the mitral valve. The corresponding valve on the right side has three flaps. The only means by which he could remember their respective positions, said Huxley, with his skeptic's humor, was by the reflection that a bishop could never be in the right.

The Kind They Fool.

He—Some girls are awfully conceited. She—Why? He—They'll brag about making a fool of a man that was never anything else.—Detroit Free Press.

SAD DEATH AT HOSPITAL.

Herbert Todd, six years old, a son of Mr. A. J. Todd, a prominent citizen of Hand, near Conway, S. C., died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where he had just undergone an operation for a fracture of the skull, suffered as the result of the kick of a mule about twelve months ago. The wound left the little fellow with a great depression of the skull and paralysis had set in, making the operation imperative. It was the only chance in ten thousand for his recovery and the little fellow could not stand the shock. He passed away immediately after the operation. The remains were taken to the rooms of Funeral Director James F. Woolvin, on Princess street, and will be carried to the home of the family near Conway by the father this morning.

DEATH OF MR. LEO LOEB.

Account of His Death in Columbia S. C., State of Yesterday.

The Columbia State of yesterday has the following announcement of the death of Mr. Leo Loeb, of which mention was made in this paper of the same date:

"Mr. Leo Loeb, of Albany, N. Y., died in this city yesterday after an illness of about three weeks. The death of Mr. Loeb is a peculiarly sad one, and the members of his family, who were in the city yesterday, received many expressions of sympathy from the people of Columbia who heard of it.

"Mr. Loeb was a traveling man, having North Carolina for his territory, and represented the house of Mendelssohn & Sons, of Albany, N. Y. He finished up his work in North Carolina about three weeks ago and came to Columbia, this being his first visit here. He was taken ill on the night of his arrival and the next day sent to the Knowlton Infirmary. It was ascertained that he was a member of the Elks Order, being affiliated with the Wilmington Lodge, and in addition belonged to several Jewish societies. Everything possible was done for him, several physicians and nurses being constantly in attendance. His wife and daughter were sent for and arrived last Thursday, Mrs. Loeb being very ill at the time. His house in Albany telegraphed that nothing must be left undone for his comfort, but despite all efforts he died yesterday. Mrs. Loeb has recovered sufficiently to accompany the body back to their home in Albany this morning, and the Elks of Columbia will send a handsome floral wreath."

desirable results he advised the pastors and teachers to preach it, talk it up call for pledges, badge it, canvass for it; in short make much of it; let it be the feature of the school until well established.

Mrs. Hamill's address, "The Sunday School a Missionary Force," had as its objective point the setting aside of one Sunday in each month as Missionary Sunday. She spoke of the interest which children take in foreign missions when the subject is presented in definite concrete form. Where there is no information, there is no inspiration; therefore, the information must be graded to meet the needs of those to whom it is given. Pictures and other devices, were suggested and even bed-time stories of great missionaries and their work might be useful adjuncts.

Questions and decisions of means and methods followed Mrs. Hamill's address, after which the session adjourned until this morning at 9:30.

A special feature of the work for today will be the practical demonstration by Miss Frances Hungerford, assistant supervisor of Drawing in the Graded Schools of Washington, D. C., showing the value of the black board in the Sunday School room. During the noon intermission, Miss Hungerford will take a class out for free hand nature work. There will be no charge for this special work and it is hoped that a large class may avail themselves of this privilege.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all who are intrested in the work this school is doing.

Sunday will be the big day of the institute. During the morning a model Sunday School will be taught by Dr. Hamill with Mrs. Hamill in charge of the primary work. This will be followed by the annual sermon in the auditorium by Dr. Wilson. In the afternoon there will be a mass meeting of all departments of the institute with ten-minute addresses by Rev. N. M. Watson, Colonel Walker Taylor and others. The children will be given Bible drills by Mrs. Lamoreaux and Mrs. Hamill. In the evening a picturesque service will be held to be known as a thirty-minute vesper service outside on the beach. Singing, appropriate reading and brief twilight words will be the features.

THE VALUE OF A BEGINNING.

Too many people look down on small beginnings.

They think they will open a Savings Account when they get a hundred dollars. We have seen a good many more substantial savings develop from a start of $1 and DETERMINATION to get ahead, than from a hundred dollar start without determination.

MONUMENT TO H. L. WYATT

(Raleigh News and Observer.)

Salem, N. C., June 12.—There was a called meeting of the Henry L. Wyatt Chapter of the U. D. C. at this place today, which was attended by a large and enthusiastic crowd of members and visitors. The president, Mrs. R. A. Ashworth, stated that the object of the meeting was to decide on some plan of action leading to the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of Private Henry L. Wyatt, who was the first Confederate soldier killed in the Civil War. In discussing this subject she read an article written by Mr. John A. Mitchener, of this place, and the comment on same by different newspapers of the State. Mr. Mitchener having been invited to attend the meeting, was asked for an expession on the subject, which he did, discussing especially the plan of action in raising the money, interesting other chapters, also pledging the first five dollars along with his personal aid. It was moved and carried that this chapter pledge to raise not less than one hundred and fifty dollars, and that an appeal be made to all chapters of Sons and Daughters and every camp of Confederate Veterans in this State to take prompt action in this matter, and to ask everybody to give something for this cause. A special committee of three was appointed to solicit funds and to solicit co-operation, support and influence of other like organizations of this State as well as all patriotic citizens of the State. The meeting was full of interest and enthusiasm, and it was decided to raise the money at once and have the monument unveiled on the tenth of next June, the forty-seventh anniversary of his death. Of course it is understood this monument is to be erected in the Capitol Square in the city of Raleigh.

A MEMPHIS LANDMARK.

The Famous Old Mart Where Slaves Were Bought and Sold.

Grim, unsightly, paintless, seamed and crooked throughout its masonry, there stands today an old brick building on Adams street, midway between Main and Second, about which clusters more of history and of change than can be compressed into song or story. It is situated just on the east of the alley midway between Main and Second streets and is used as a shelter for the city prisoners who are worked on the rock pile.

If you will take the trouble to step to the westward side of this old building, where it faces the alley, and glance up along its second story you may still discern the inscription, "Negro Mart and Livery Stable," or as much of it as time has not penciled out. The last letter of the word "mart" and the last letter of the word "stable" are gone. The others are dimmed with age and might pass unnoticed unless you look a second time.

Time was when this was a famous negro market. It was presided over in its time by no less a man than General Forrest himself. Thousands of negroes were bought and sold within its walls, and hundreds of thousands of dollars passed there from buyer to vender.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

FORCE OF GRAVITY.

If the planet Mars is really inhabited the people who live there must be an exceedingly nimble race. The average weight of a man is about 140 pounds, but the force of gravity on Mars is so much less than on the earth that the 140 pound man would weigh only fifty-three pounds if he were transported there. With such light weight and still retaining the same strength, an individual would be able to run with the speed of an express train, go skipping over ten foot walls and do various other extraordinary things. On the moon a man would be even lighter.

But on the sun our 140 pound man would have his troubles. Instead of being an airy individual he would weigh in the neighborhood of a ton and three-quarters. He would probably have the greatest difficulty in raising his hand, for that member would weigh about 300 pounds.

Aluminium.

Aluminium, it is generally known, is a metallic element found in clay and is the same material of which rubies, sapphires, emery and alum are made. It enters into the composition of a large number of other materials, and it is estimated that in its various compounds aluminium forms about one-twelfth of the crust of the earth. Every brick in every building is said to be 30 per cent aluminium. It is produced by the decomposition of clay, which is a salt composed of silicic acid combined with aluminium. The aluminium is separated from the silica by the application of electricity. Separation has never been successfully done in any other way.—Boston Globe.

A ROMANTIC LEASE.

The public is generally conversant with the annual custom of paying "one red rose" as ground rental in eastern Pennsylvania churches to the descendants of those who gave the ground for the edifices, but it is not generally known that hundreds of owners of farms are under a similar obligation, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"Red rose rent" is yearly paid every second Sunday in June in the Lutheran church at Manheim, Lancaster county; in the Tulpehocken Reformed church, about sixteen miles west of Reading, and in several edifices in Lebanon county, while several congregations in Berks are entitled to observe the event, but do not.

Roses paid on these occasions to representatives of families whose ancestors made such provisions are treasured as priceless heirlooms, and at Manheim they have come from many states.

It is known to few that more than 160 years ago great tracts of farm land were sold around Reading with the same stipulation. It is estimated that at least 20,000 acres of land in Berks are subject because of a clause in the original deeds to an annual ground rent of one red rose.

Records of the Berks courthouse show that many years before Baron Stigel provided for the payment of red rose rent by the church at Manheim Caspar Wistar sold land containing the same clause.

The Tulpehocken Reformed church is built on land that is subject to "one red rose" quit rent. The land was owned by Caspar Wistar, brass button manufacturer of Philadelphia. The red rose rent has been paid to the Philadelphia descendants of Caspar Wistar for some years. The most notable observance was in 1902, when thirty prominent Philadelphia Wistars attended the services and were paid 157 red roses in payment of arrears of rent.

John Page, described as "a gentleman from London," was another extensive real estate speculator in the early colonial period. He planned to establish a feudal barony along the Tulpehocken in 1735. Every deed of land sold by him contained the red rose clause.

HOW WARRIORS DIED.

Grant, who time and again stood untouched amid a hail of bullets, finally died of cancer.

William the Silent survived numerous conflicts and campaigns, only to be assassinated after he was victorious.

Napoleon, apparently bullet proof and believed by his followers to bear a charmed life, died almost alone of a cancer.

Cortes, the conqueror of Mexico, after half a lifetime of desperate fighting, died in Spain of typhoid fever, neglected and despised by those whom he had benefited.

Washington survived the perils of the wilderness, the dangers of Indian warfare, all the bullets and balls of a score of Revolutionary battles and the hardships of a seven years' campaign to be bled to death by his doctors.

Lord Clive, the English conqueror of India, a bold, active warrior, exposed to death in scores of desperate battles and by several plots, fell a victim after his return to England to the opium habit and committed suicide.

Blacksnakes.

I have never seen blacksnakes over seven feet long, and much doubt if they grow to a greater length. They are not hard to catch, though in an open field they can run about as fast as a man can. When caught they struggle desperately until they find there is no opportunity to escape, when they will give up fighting and may be handled with impunity. I have never found these snakes to be vicious. They can be handled easily, and their bite is harmless. They can squeeze pretty hard if they get a turn around your waist, but not hard enough to break a bone.—Forest and Stream.

—The Bank of Union, of Monroe, has increased its capital stock from $25,000 to $100,000.

—Raleigh, June 13: Quartermaster General Macon has made requisition on the War Department for chambray shirts for the entire National Guard of the State and these will be here in time for issue ofr use at the encampment in August. The guard will take its full strength, over 2,000, officers and men, under canvas.

—Greenville Reflector: The Reflector is advised that the Norfolk and Southern Railroad is going to build a very handsome depot in Greenville, one that is really ahead of the present size of the town. But the town will not be long growing to it, and the determination to build such a depot shows that the railroad people, like the home folks, have faith in the future of Greenville.

—In the office of the Secretary of State at Raleigh on Thursday the Holt-Morgan Mills, of Fayetteville, was granted an amendment to its charter authorizing the increase of its capital stock from $225,700 to $375,700, of which $225,700 shall be common stock and $150,000 shall be preferred stock. The officers of this company are Mr. W. L. Holt, president, and Mr. L. A. Williamson, secretary.

—Whiteville News-Reporter: All who have subscribed for stock in the cotton mill to be erected at Whiteville, and all those interested in this important movement, are requested to attend a meeting to be held Tuesday, June 18th, at 4 P. M., at the Court House. The books will be open for subscription at that time., The shares are made $10.00 each to enable everybody to contributte to this movement which promises so much for our county.

—Clarkton Express: The bond issue of election for Brown Marsh township passed off very quietly Tuesday, although there was some hard work done on both sides. Out of a total registration of 110 there were 94 votes cast, 77 for bonds and 17 against bonds. This act provides for a bond issue of $10,000, the money to be used for improving the roads in Brown Marsh township. The extra tax will be very small and we believe that those who opposed the act will in the end find that it is a good thing and that other townships adjoining us will do likewise.

—Jamestown Exposition, Va., June 13: Governor Glenn inspected the North Carolina building and exhibits in the various buildings. He saw Commissioner General Pogue for the first time since he has been here and the governor expressed his delight with the building, but criticised strongly the condition of North Carolina's exhibits, except the mineral exhibit. A meeting of the full board of commissioners from North Carolina is called for Tuesday. President Powell, of the commission, of Asheville, is here and is doing much good work for the State. Col. Pogue says the North Carolina exhibits will be completed within a few days. He is now furnishing the State's building.

—Raleigh News and Observer, June 14: Mr. Claudius Beavers, of Keliain's Grove, this county, who has qualified as administrator on the estate of his son, Elton Clarence Beavers, who was killed at Wake Forest last Saturday afternoon, has engaged Mr. Charles U. Harris to bring suit against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company for damages. It is understood that the amount asked for will be not less than $20,000, and probably larger. The deceased was flagman on a freight train and had been in the service of the company about two years. In leaving the caboose at Wake Forest to close the switch while the train was moving, he fell and either the running gear of the car struck his head or it struck a cross-tie, fracturing the skull and causing instant death. Mr. Beavers was 25 years of age and left a wife and a young child.

—Snow Hill Laconic: Last week a farmer near Sharpsburg, on Antietam creek, in Maryland, while plowing in his field, plowed up human bones. Upon further investigation the entire skeleton of a man was unearthed and with it a sword bearing the inscription "Arch. W. Speight, Co. A, 3d N. C. C. S. A." This find was on the battlefield known as Sharpsburg, or Antietam, where Lee and McClellan fought one of the great battles of the Civil War, September 17th, 1862. Lieute- War, September 17th, 1862. Lieutenant Arch W. Speight, a son of Abner Speight, of Speight's Bridge township, this county, was killed in this battle and buried upon the battlefield, receiving a soldier's burial, being rolled in a blanket with his sword and thrown in a hole. He was a member of Company A, Third North Carolina regiment, which holds its re-union here every 10th of April. We understand that some of his relatives are talking of having his remains removed to some cemetery. His request when he left for the war, if slain on the battle field, was that his remains be allowed to remain where first interred.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 14.—The cotton market was irregular again today and while prices ruled steady during the middling of the afternoon, the close was steady at a net decline of 3 to 12 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 bales. The opening was steady at a decline of 2 points to an advance of 2 points which was just about as due on cables. During the first half hour the market sold off to a net decline of 5 points on July and off 7 to 10 points on later months as a result of continued good weather reports, scattering liquidation, and local bear pressure but at the decline was steadied by covering. After ruling quiet and irregular during the middle session, the market improved a little in the afternoon led by July which seemed to be influenced by prospects of a bullish visible statement tomorrow and which showed a net gain of 5 points while active new crop position sold up to about the closing figures of the previous day. This was followed just before the close by renewed weakness under selling for both accounts and last prices were within a point or two of the lowest. The weather map showed rains in the eastern belt but precipitation was not heavy and conditions were regarded as satisfactory on the average. Private crop reports continued bullish with reference to the start of the plant and insects and southern spot markets were firm with prices unchanged to 1-2c higher.

Receipts at the ports today 8,734 bales against 7,331 last week and 6,223 last year. For the week 30,000 bales against 29,843 last week and 29,770 last year. Today's receipts at the New Orleans 3,948 bales against 491 last year and at Houston 351 bales against 1,397 last year.

COLUMBIA WOMAN ROBBED OF $61,000

ATTEMPTED TO MURDER HER

Struck Woman in Head and Tried To Drown Her—It Is Believed in Columbia That He Had Married Woman.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

San Antonio, Texas, June 14. — Charged with assaulting and robbing Miss Sallie Gibson, of Columbia, S. C., of $61,000, Rufus Williams last night confessed the crime in the county jail. He was caught yesterday on an eastbound Southern Pacific train on his way to New Orleans. Miss Gibson and Williams arrived in the city yesterday from the east, the former coming for the purpose of investing in Texas lands. She had on her person fifty one-thousand dollar bills and the remainder in gold coin. Williams obtained a vehicle from a local livery and suggested a drive into the woods. Miss Gibson was struck on the head and an attempt was made to drown her. Williams said he took her money and fled back to the city.

Columbia, S. C., June 14.—Miss Sallie Gibson, of this city whom Rufus Williams confessed to having assaulted and robber of $61,000 at San Antonio, Texas, last night, is said to have possessed considerable money which she had hoarded up. Not many months ago she deposited in a bank here about $40,000 most of which was in gold coin, green with age. It is thought here that Williams and Miss Gibson are married. Williams was Miss Gibson's business manager. Lately Miss Gibson disposed of all her property here. Williams is a livery man. About six months ago Miss Gibson was assaulted on the street in this city, the motive being robbery.

NEGRO MONSTER HANGED.

Confessed on Gallows to Several Assaults and Murders.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., June 14.—Standing on the gallows, Will Johnson, a negro, convicted of criminally assaulting Mrs. Georgia Hembree, a white woman, last August, today confessed his crime, and included in his confession a list of other assaults and murders that have mystefied the police of Fulton county for the past year. When he had finished, he warned his hearers to avoid his example, and the trap was sprung. His neck was broken.

Johnson admitted on the scaffold that he shot Amos Moody, a white farmer, last year; that he attempted to assault Miss Lawrence near Atlanta, August 20, by which she was left unconscious with one eye gouged out, for which crime another negro was sentenced to 40 years imprisonment, that he emptied a gun through an open window of the residence of J. W. Bryant, a farmer living several miles north of the city, November 12, last, seriously wounding Mr. Bryant and his sister; that he attempted to assault two white women in the suburbs of Atlanta last Fall; and he concluded his admission by telling of the murder of a man whom he called Jackson, in Texas, several years ago. So convinced were his attorneys of Johnson's innocence that they brought the case before the State Prison Commission as late as Thursday of this week, asking for a communtation of sentence to life imprisonment.

This was refused and Governor Terrell also declined to take action on the appeal for clemency.

LAUNCH MYSTERY HAS BEEN SOLVED

LIES IN 27 FEET OF WATER

Heads and Army of Three Men Are Protruding—Believed There Are Nine Bodies in Launch—Certainly Run Down.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Newport News, Va., June 14.—With canopy frame crushed but canvass still tightly fastened down the missing launch of the battleship Minnesota was located in 27 feet of water about 1,600 yards west by south of Fort Wool, this afternoon about 5 o'clock. Across the little craft was a tell tale piece of towing line serving to convince the naval officers that they are right in their theory that the launch was run down by a float of some kind in tow of a tug. The diver who went down to examine the launch, reported that the heads and arms of three men were protruding from beneath the canvas covering; the men having made a desperate fight for life when they were carried down like rats in a trap. It will be 5 o'clock tomorrow morning before the launch can be raised and at the present time no one knows how many bodies will be found. It is believed that certainly nine of the bodies will be under the canopy, but the fact that the uniform caps of Midshipmen Ulrich and Stevenson were picked up in the Roads indicates that these two must have succeeded in getting free from the boat before they were drowned. Aboard the battleship Indiana tonight Captain Mahan confirmed for the Associated Press the report of the finding of the launch. He said that all the facts had been wired to Washington and that an official report would be given out tomorrow.

Searchlights from all the American battleships are playing upon the spot around which two floating derrick, the naval tug Potomac and half a dozen launches and cutters are anchored. A diver is at the bottom of the Roads, placing the cables with which the derricks will raise the launch. Officers and men on board the Atlantic fleet are waiting anxiously for the raising of the boat.

The ill-fated boat was found by the launches of the battleships Ohio and Iowa, which were dragging over a course laid out by officers. A diver from the Indiana was sent down as soon as possible and before darkness had settled over the Roads signals from ship to ship announced that the search which had been in progress since Tuesday was at an end. In looking for the boat, the officers proceeded on the theory that the launch when it left the exposition grounds at midnight Monday, started for the battleship Connecticut to put Midshipman Holcomb aboard that vessel, to which he belonged. It was supposed that the boat was run down somewhere between a point where she would have started across the main channel and the battleship Connecticut. There the find was made, the spot being several hundred yards from where the Connecticut was anchored, and a short distance from the squadron.

It is learned here tonight that a New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk car float passed through the Roads shortly after midnight Tuesday morning bound from Cape Charles for Norfolk. The float arrived at Norfolk about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and is believed to have been directly off the exposition grounds at the time the launch went down in the same place.

As far as the diver could tell the hull of the launch was not damaged only the canopy frame being crushed. This indicates that if was not in collision with a tug or other such craft. Naval officers are convinced that the boat ran into a tow line and was thrown under a square end barge or float. If this happened the launch must have been literally mashed beneath the water and its occupants, five midshipmen and six seamen, had no chance to escape.

Washington Informed.

Washrington, June 14.—Official notice of the finding of the battleship Minnesota's ill-fated launch, which went to the bottom of Hampton Roads with its eleven occupants on Tuesday night was received by the Navy Department tonight in a message from the Commander of the Atlantic fleet. The dispatch says the launch was grappled by the dragging party and that it was expected to be raised tonight. Several bodies were found but on "account of the confined space" their number could not be counted. The location of the discovery of the launch is thus described in the dispatch:

Official advices reached here tonight from Hampton Roads announcing the recovery of the bodies of the eleven victims of the accident to the battleship Minnesota's steam launch.

STATE PROVING ORCHARD'S STORY

THEY SENT ORCHARD MONEY

Records of Telegrams and Money Orders Introduced in Evidence at Boise—Steve Adams Brought Into Court and Identified.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Boise, Idaho, June 14.—The prosecution in the Stuenenberg murder trial today, entering in earnest on the corroberation of Harry Orchard's testimony, showed a continuous thread of evidence connecting George Pettibone's store in Denver with Orchard at San Francisco while engaged on the Bradley murder plot, partly developed another direct line by which it is hoped to show that Haywood engaged and paid Adams for the same desperate work and added special touches to confirmation of Orchard's general story.

Officers at San Francisco and Denver produced original records showing that in August, 1904, a registered letter was sent under the name of "J. wolff," from the address of Pettibone's store in Denver to "J. Dempsey" at the Golden West Hotel in San Francisco. Orchard swore that he stayed at the Golden West Hotel under alias that was either "Dempsey" or "Hogan," that Pettibone used the aliases of "Wolff," and "Pat Bone," and that under the name of "Wolff," Pettibone in the month mentioned sent him a registered letter containing $100 to pay his expenses while attempting to kill Bradley.

Police officers, of Ogden, established the arrest there in June, 1903, of Steve Adams and A. T. Williams. They were arrested for trespass, each had a brace of revolvers. When released through the influence of a detective, to whom Adams appealed as a Mason, they went straight to the office of the Western Union and sent a telegram to Haywood in Denver.

The defense headed off an attempt to get the contents of the telegram before the jury, but the State indicated that it would return to the charge later and further develop the incident when it had broadened its foundation. The State, through an official of the Western Union, produced the original of a telegram supposed to have been sent by Attorney Fred Miller, of Spokane, now recorded as one of Haywood's counsel, to Harry Orchard before the latter was arrested at Caldwell for the Steunenberg murder, but did not introduce it because its identification is still insufficient. The State also got an order from the court directing the Western Union to produce its records showing that Haywood sent money to Adams at Ogden.

When the Ogden testimony was introduced Steve Adams was brought into court under guard to be identified. Adams' name has run all through the trial, but this was his first appearance in person. Adams seemed in a defiant humor, and walked to a point directly in front of the jury and gazed steadily at the witness confronting him.

The State also produced several witnesses who confirmed features of Orchard's story as to the Bradley affair, the descent in the Vindicator mine, with the object of doing violence, the final success of the Vindicator plot and the circumstances under which Detective Lyte Gregory was killed. Aside from its fight against the admission of all the evidence offered by the State on the ground that it was in no way connected with the accused, the defense contented itself with showing that all of the witnesses had been found and interviewed by Pinkerton detectives.

The Secretary of the Treasury has accepted the proposal of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company for the construction of the new derelict destroyer for the revenue cutter service authorized by the last Congress. The price is $244,500, and the vessel is to be completed on or before June 1, 1908. The vessel will be 204 feet long, 34 feet beam and will draw 15 1-2 feet of water. It will have a coal carrying capacity of 300 tons or more, which will give it a steaming radius of about 5,000 miles.

At Milton, Fla., yesterday Nathan Woodall, a young negro, was hanged for the murder of Walter Nowling last January. He confessed his crime on the gallows and advised the people of his race to lead better lives. His neck was broken.

John Hardy, a negro, who shot and killed Police Officer Robert Beard last October, at Roanoke, Va., was hanged early yesterday in the Roanoke jail yard. The rope broke when Hardy shot through the trap and he rolled over on the ground, half choking. He was again placed on the scaffold and the second drop broke his neck. He was pronounced dead in five minutes.

Col. S. H. Wreford, a prominent business man, was shot and killed yesterday at Brownsville, Tex., result of a circular he issued on Thursday, in which he bitterly denounced Captain William Kelly because of Kelly's testimony before the Senate Committee which is investigating the Brownsville affair in Washington. Jesse Thorham, the step-son of Capt. Kelley, is charged with the killing.

At St. Paul, Minn., yesterday Secretary Taft became suddenly ill at Fort Snelling while riding through the reservation in an automobile. Medical aid was at once summoned, and the Secretary was taken to the home of J. S. Hill, in the city. Secretary Taft telegraphed Mrs. Taft at Washington that he had suffered a temporary attack of indigestion, but that the doctor assured him that he would be all right today, adding, however, that he needed a little rest. Secretary Taft announced that accordingly he would give up his South Dakota trip and wait for his Kansas engagement. He attended a banquet in St. Paul after a doctor had relieved his suffering.
